

A national association of private nonprofit family planning agencies

FPCA is a trade association of private, not-for-profit, Title X funded grantee organizations invested in strengthening the national family planning program and devoted to keeping Title X a national priority. FPCA utilizes the service delivery expertise of its members to promote excellence in the development, operation and evaluation of community-based systems of reproductive health care.

Serving as a forum for the exchange of information and exploration of issues of concern, FPCA advocates for the provision of high quality services; supports effective and efficient management practices; and advises on program and policy development resulting in improved health status of clients and communities.

Our members come together at least four times a year to obtain the latest program, political and professional news and updates, network to solve problems common to Title X grantees and receive technical assistance. In addition, we communicate with each other throughout the year on emerging topics and issues.

FPCA's membership includes agencies throughout the United States which:

- Serve approximately 1.9 million patients each year, either as umbrella agencies for the distribution of Title X funds or as direct service providers
- Represent more than 200 years of family planning expertise
- Offer leadership on reproductive health issues at the local, state and national levels.
