Part II, Line 18

Numerous facts and circumstances justify NFPRHA being treated as a publicly supported charity under section 1.170A-9(f)(3) of the Regulations:

Percentage of Public Support, 1.170A-9(f)(3)(i), 1.170A-9(f)(3)(iii)(A)

As shown, NFPRHA's public support for the period from 2012 to 2019 is more than 25% which is above the minimum 10% requirement. Therefore, NFPRHA is treated as normally receiving a substantial amount of governmental or public support. 2013 was the first year that NFPRHA fell below 33.3% public support and is taking aggressive steps to increase its public support. In FY2017 the development staff was increased to help generate new foundation funding sources for FY2018 and beyond. During the reporting year, foundation sources continue to increase. The number of corporations that support NFPRHA at low levels of sponsorship has increased over the last several years. The development team will continue this trend and seek additional support from existing corporate sponsors and to identify new foundation funding streams.

Attraction of Public Support, 1.170A-9(f)(3)(ii)

NFPRHA receives support from private foundations, membership dues, Combined Federal Campaign contributions, online donations from individuals, individual and corporate support of its annual national conference and gala, and grants from corporations and other nonprofit organizations. The foundations currently supporting NFPRHA have a diverse set of interests and rationales for supporting NFPRHA's work.

Representative Governing Body, 1.170A-9(f)(3)(iii)(C)

NFPRHA's Board of Directors represents the broad interests of the public and is comprised of family planning clinicians and administrators, health care consultants, hospital administrators, government employees, and community members with deep knowledge and expertise related to the delivery and administration of publicly funded family planning services. One hundred percent of the NFPRHA Board members are either current or former family planning health center administrators, clinicians, or have focused on family planning policy.

Members of the NFPRHA Board have diverse backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences, and work with diverse patient populations. They represent geographically diverse areas of the United States, and ensure that the organization reflects the full breadth of the public interest.

Availability of Public Services and Public Participation in Programs, 1.170A-9(f)(3)(iii)(D)

NFPRHA advances and elevates the importance of family planning in the nation's health care system and promotes and supports the work of family planning providers and administrators, especially those in the safety net. In this endeavor, the organization engages the public on different levels, making resources and programs available to them in a number of different ways.

NFPRHA publishes a regular newsletter and maintains a website to keep the public informed about the work of NFPRHA and to provide resources for health center administrators, policymakers and the public. Through these vehicles, NFPRHA makes available educational resources produced by NFPRHA, as well as providing links to the work of many partner organizations.

The full scope of the publicly available education materials produced by NFPRHA is too extensive to fully describe here, but one representative source will serve to illustrate the nature of the work. NFPRHA has produced an interactive map "Title X in Your State" that links to a series of state-specific fact sheets that NFPRHA has created to provide key data on the Title X family planning network in each state and the impact of the program, including most recently the effect of the 2019 Title X regulation on the program's capacity to serve in each state.

Each year, NFPRHA organizes two to three conferences, and organizes and/or participates in many public briefings on Capitol Hill. NFPRHA conferences offer critical education, policy analyses, training, and networking opportunities and is available to the public.

On more than 80 50 occasions each year, NFPRHA staff organize or participate in conferences, panels, trainings, and other events designed to educate the broader public health community. These events help spread information on a range of topics important to increasing and protecting public access to family planning health care.

Conclusion

In closing, the percentage of NFPRHA's financial support is well above 10% and sources of our support comes from a representative number of persons, as described in our answer to subsection (f)(3)(ii). NFPRHA's mission is to promote public access to family planning care by educating policymakers and providing resources to the administrators of
